

BATTERY B WINS FIRST INDOOR BASEBALL GAME FROM NUGGETS

In a game which was replete with thrills and spectacular fielding the Battery B indoor baseball team not only won a well earned victory of the Nuggets at the State Armory on Monday evening defeating the cigar-makers 7 to 3. It was Steve Wilson's crashing double scissor Mills in the last half of the eighth inning that sent the Nuggets down the toboggan to defeat for in their half of the final stanza they were cut off from a possible run by some fast fielding. For excitement and merit this game far exceeded the outdoor game by several blocks and the errors in the game were so numerous that it was impossible to score them.

The Battery team started off like the New York Giants and had their opponents bewildered with their onslaught. Bill McKnight at third was their chief mark and Bill was kept hopping around like a pea on a hot griddle trying to keep from getting hit. After the smoke had cleared the soldiers had two runs to their credit. It looked bad for the Nuggets but in the first half of the second inning they became accustomed to the glare of the arc lights and they pounded five runs across. This looked big but the soldier boys let down another barrage of hits that had the Nuggets gasping for breath. When the soldiers were finally driven from their position at bat the score stood 6-3 in favor of the army.

The Nuggets seemed to be at a loss what to do with the ball and the high flies that came to them were left to shift for themselves. When the Nuggets took their turn at bat they were bewildered but managed to get one counter across. Manager Madden took his men to task and cautioned and consoled them. His talk seemed to do a world of good for it was a new team that took the field. They played as if they were at the Fairgrounds with a championship at stake. Never was such a reversal of form seen on the armory before. It was nothing short of marvelous. Try the soldiers would they could not get any runs across for double plays, spectacular catches and stops up a stop to any rally that was being made. The Soldier boys however were equal to the task and their fielding was just as good as their batting. Slippery Le-mieux, Harry Coleman and Danny Mills performing acrobatically did much to save their buddies.

The game went on four and a half innings under this nerve-racking tension and then alas, the Nuggets cracked. It was the same Manager Madden who first showed the signs of weakening in the last half of the eighth inning his arm weakened and he lobbed one over to Mills who promptly passed it up into the beams. Several Nuggets rushed to the place where the ball was expected to fall but taking an uncanny bound it fell in unaccounted territory. The Nuggets were then left with a 6-3 lead. The second, Steve Wilson, pitching as for the soldiers, was the next man up. He let two go by and then swung wickedly and the ball whizzed off the fingers of the lockers at the back of the hall while Mills knocked the ball with the run that proved to be the winning run. The Nuggets rallied to the cause but the damage was done.

The Nuggets made a desperate attempt in their half of the ninth to tie the score but a double play sent them back a defeated team. It was a good game who ever won and the boys had lots of fun. In speaking of the wonderful showing made by the Nuggets it must be stated that they played the indoor game for the first time and that it was a triple play when three men on base a triple play was pulled off. Madden caught a fly that came to him out of the rafters, threw to Joe Burke at second for the second out and Burke threw to McKnight at third for the third out. Had not this play been pulled the score would have been much larger in favor of the soldiers.

For the soldiers the Brevet Twins performed exceptionally well and between them shot off the Nuggets from scoring. The lineup follows:
